

I am a listener and supporter of KLOVE which often works through translators. KLOVE is great because it is something I can hear when I travel in the mountains or across country. If you displaced local translators with LPFM radio, I believe many people would not get the family friendly, positive music that KLOVE provides. KLOVE unites people across the country with wonderful encouraging music, and it is essential to communities throughout the country!